ON THE HOME STRETCH

Both Ohio Senators Struggling to Pass First Under the Wire.

THE SOLONS PLUNGING ON FAVORITES.

An Exciting Contest Which Will Settle the Fate of Aspiring Candidates For Legislative Positions in the Buckeye State.

Columbus, O., Jan. 3.—The members of the Ohio legislature, as well as the candidates for legislative positions, are all here participating in the contests previous to the caucus Saturday evening, when nominations are to be made for the organization of the legislature on Monday. But the wires are still kept busy between the Republican leaders here and Senators Foraker in Cincinnati and Hanna in Washington.

While both Ohio senators have become indirectly involved in the contest through the direct interest of their respective followers, it develops on the home stretch that the lines are not strictly drawn between their friends. Many members concur with George B. Cox in stating that this fight is not one for the supremacy of either Foraker or Hanna in Ohio and that they are on equally cordial relations with both senators. Some of Hanna's closest friends are for Price and some of Foraker's for McKinnon, speaker for personal, local or other than factional reasons.

The lines are much more distinctly drawn between what are known as the Cox men and the Daugherty men. Two years ago ex-Representative Harry M. Daugherty was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination by Governor Nash. Daugherty ran on an "anti-hoss issue," and his canvass was such as to offend both Ohio senators and some other leaders, and especially George B. Cox of Cincinnati, who threw his whole strength to Nash as he is now doing for Price. McKinnon was a Daugherty man then and a leader in the last legislature, which was controlled in its organization by the Daugherty men.

Cox is now supporting Price for speaker, as he says, because he was pledged to him before the present complications arose. And he also says, although on the most friendly terms with Hanna, he would never have joined the senator in supporting McKinnon for speaker. While Cox is friendly with both senators, Daugherty is an avowed opponent of both and the local feature of the contest is the fact that Hanna and Daugherty are for the same man for speaker.

CAPITAL AND LABOR

Will Submit Their Differences to an Arbitration Committee.

New York, Jan. 3.—One of the most original experiments in the settlement of wage disputes between capital and labor will be made in Brooklyn by an arbitration committee of five men. If either party refuses to abide by the committee's decision it will lose $10,000, already put up as a forfeit.

The firm having the dispute with its employees is that of Weyert & Gardner, shoe manufacturers, in East New York.

In one department 70 men and women are affected by a newly-patented method of making lasts, and the employees demand an increase of one cent a pair. This firm has refused and both sides have fallen back upon a unique arrangement. Under this agreement the workmen were to name two of the members of an arbitration committee, the firm to name two others, and these four to select the fifth. Both sides made heavy deposits agreeing to forfeit the same in the event of a failure to submit to the arbitration.

Rebels Secure Arms.

New York, Jan. 3.—Venezuelan revolutionists have landed 15,000 Mausers and 180,000 rounds of ammunition at Coro, in Guayana, where the commandant of the government force has revolted with 500 men and has joined Generals Urinna, Fernandez and Garcia, whose troops are in the state of Barcelona. The revolutionary generals, Guzman, Monogros and Platero, are operating in the districts of Carabobo and Guarico. Generals Botella and Fernandez Cedeno have taken the field against Castro.

Coal Company In Trouble.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 3.—Colonel John T. McGraw and Melville D. Post, representing creditors of the Flemington Coal company, with offices in New York and mines in West Virginia, have presented a petition on behalf of numerous creditors to have the company declared an involuntary bankrupt. Assets are said to be half a million dollars, with liabilities considerably in excess of that amount. The case will be heard Saturday. It is the largest bankruptcy case ever before the court.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

Features of Protocol Which Have Not Been Disclosed.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Some of the main features of the protocol between the United States and Nicaragua referred to in President Zelaya's message to his congress have been made known in recent dispatches from Managua. But there are many other important features which have not yet been disclosed, one of these being complete American jurisdiction and the establishment of American courts, civil and criminal throughout a zone six miles wide and extending from ocean to ocean and including the proposed terminal, Greytown, on the Atlantic and Brito on the Pacific.

The entire policing of this large tract also is placed in the hands of the United States, so that it has the power to preserve order and after that to issue judicial process extending throughout this zone.

Besides the authority of American courts and of the American police on the six-mile zone, the chief features of the protocol are in giving a lease in perpetuity of this tract to the United States and at the same time giving an American guarantee that the independence, sovereignty and integrity of Nicaragua shall not be disturbed by the rights thus conferred upon the United States.

No exact information is obtainable as to the price specified in the protocol as payment to Nicaragua for the grant to this country.

It can be stated positively, however, that this price is much less than was expected when the negotiations began and that it is considered by officials as reasonable. It is understood that at the outset the view in Nicaragua was that $20,000,000 would be a proper figure for the grant to this country, and about $5,000,000 for Costa Rica's grant, but while there is no information as to the final sum in the protocol, it was known to be far short of the above figures.

As the session takes the form of a perpetual lease, it is probable that the protocol includes the feature of an annual rent as part payment. A protocol with Costa Rica, identical in form with that with Nicaragua, except in the matter of price and territory leased, has been in course of negotiation and it is understood that a satisfactory conclusion will be reached with that government.

Syndicate in Trouble.

New York, Jan. 3.—The troubles of the Everett-Moore syndicate did not cause a surprise to Wall street bankers. Bankers here say that those interested are principally small investors throughout Michigan, Ohio and Indiana and that only indirectly will eastern financiers feel the effect of the passing of the trolley lines into the hands of bankers. Interest coupons of some of the companies in the Everett-Moore syndicate were paid in this city Thursday by Kean, Van Cortlandt & Co., bankers of this city. At that office it was said the firm's only interest in the syndicate was to act as fiscal agent for some of the companies which the syndicate controlled, that it had none of the securities. The syndicate's attempt to build a line parallel to the Lake Shore, part of the New York system, from Cleveland to Toledo, led to the rumor that the New York Central management intended to buy out this opposition. It was asserted here, however, that failure to sell to the Lake Shore has caused the financial difficulties of the Everett-Moore syndicate managers.

A Bold Hold-Up.

Las Vegas, N. M., Jan. 3.—News has just reached here of the robbery of a store and postoffice at Buecito, N. M., by four armed men with Winchesters and with faces painted black. They secured $400 in checks, currency and postage stamps from the safe, then they loaded what goods they wanted on their horses. After looting the place the robbers forced the postmaster and his clerk to mount horses and ride ahead of them a considerable distance out of town. There is no clue to the identity of the robbers.

Have Learned a Lesson.

New York, Jan. 3.—The imperial authorities in Canada have received orders that in every branch of Great Britain's army gold lace, swords, belts, conspicuous shoulder straps, or like badges of rank must be abandoned. It is understood here that the cause for the reform has been the lesson learned in South Africa, where the Boer marksmen are enabled to pick off the officers with alarming frequency by reason of their conspicuousness.

San Francisco, Jan. 3.—A line of merchant steamers between this port and Manila will soon be established by the Empire Steamship company, acting in conjunction with the owners of the steamer Albion. The company will put on the trans-Pacific route the steamships Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania, while the Albion will run in the inter-island trade.

Max O'Reilly's Condition.

New York, Jan. 3.—Max O'Reilly (Paul Blowet) who was operated on at the French hospital was reported to be resting comfortably. At the hospital it was said that Mr. Blowet was operated upon for structure of the bowels and not appendicitis.

Sampson Takes a Walk.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The condition of Rear Admiral Sampson shows some improvement. He took a short walk and gave evidence of enjoying the exercise. His family desires to add nothing to that already published concerning the symptoms of his malady.

Another Trust.

New York, Jan. 3.—Plans are under way for the consolidating of the principal felt manufacturing mills in New England. The syndicate which is trying to obtain control is composed of New York and New England capitalists.

STRUCK IN THE NIGHT

Steamer Walla Walla Sunk by Unknown Sailing Vessel.

ALL THE PASSENGERS WERE ASLEEP.

Steamer Dispatch Succeeds in Rescuing Sixty of the Passengers and Crew — Tugboats Ordered to Search For Missing Boats.

Eureka, Cal., Jan. 3.—The steamer Walla Walla was sunk early Thursday morning as the result of a collision with an unknown iron sailing vessel. News of the disaster was brought to Trinidad by a boat from the founder vessel and later the steamer Dispatch arrived with 60 of the crew and passengers of the wrecked vessel. The Walla Walla left San Francisco on Jan. 1 for Puget Sound points. It is thought here that 40 lives were lost in the wreck of the Walla Walla. The collision occurred at four o'clock in the morning when all the passengers were asleep. Some of the passengers on the steamer escaped in small boats and rafts. They are unable to land owing to the character of the coast, and drifted about all day, when they were picked up by the steamer Dispatch. One boat with seven people arrived at Trinidad 20 miles north of here.

George Reise of San Francisco, a passenger, gave the following account of the accident:

"It was 4:10 o'clock when the French vessel hit the Walla Walla in the bow. All were asleep. The weather was clear, the sea was rolling high.

All were dumfounded. The passengers all rushed out of their staterooms and the deck was crowded. Captain Hall went down into the steerage and found a family of seven fastened in a room. Two girls of 12 and 14 years were fastened between timbers. The girls were released and the family assisted out of their births. All prepared to leave the vessel. The captain said she would sink. Lifeboats and rafts were lowered, life preservers were put on and the passengers lowered to the boats. The vessel did not sink until 5:45, giving the crew and passengers 35 minutes to leave the steamer. Sixty-three were lowered, the life saving boats then being filled.

The excitement grew intense among the remaining passengers, women screamed, men and boys hurriedly jumped off the steamer. Several did not leave until she started to sink. The officers were cool and collected, doing every thing possible to save the passengers. No one knows the cause of the collision, but the second officer and he is missing. As soon as the French vessel penetrated the steamer's bow it was but a short time till she withdrew, leaving the passengers at the mercy of the high sea and lending no assistance whatever."

A report from Eureka that there were 165 passengers on board the Walla Walla when she went down is probably not correct.

The Pacific Coast Steamship company has issued a statement showing that the Walla Walla carried 64 passengers and a crew of 80 men. The company has no definite information as to the number of persons drowned, but places little credence in the report telegraphed from Eureka that the number of lost will reach 40.

Twenty-seven of the passengers of the Walla Walla are missing. All the rest are accounted for.

To Search For the Missing.

San Francisco, Jan. 3.—Captain Hall of the Walla Walla reported to the Pacific Coast Steamship company by telephone. He said that the Walla Walla collided with an unknown French bark at 4 o'clock Thursday morning during hazy weather. The French vessel had no lights displayed. The Walla Walla sank in 15 minutes. Captain Hall has ordered tugboats from Eureka sent to search for three missing life boats of the Walla Walla.

Max O'Reilly's Condition.

New York, Jan. 3.—Max O'Reilly (Paul Blowet) who was operated on at the French hospital was reported to be resting comfortably. At the hospital it was said that Mr. Blowet was operated upon for structure of the bowels and not appendicitis.

Sampson Takes a Walk.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The condition of Rear Admiral Sampson shows some improvement. He took a short walk and gave evidence of enjoying the exercise. His family desires to add nothing to that already published concerning the symptoms of his malady.

ANTI-MERGER FIGHT

Interstate Commerce Commission Shies Its Hat Into the Ring.

RAILWAY MAGNATES SUMMONED

Every Phase of Recent Railway Combinations Will Be Inquired Into. Minnesota's Attorney Will Institute Injunction Suit.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—At its meeting here next Wednesday the Interstate commerce commission will move against the Northern Securities company and investigate the combine of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington railways.

The commission will probe the entire matter of "community of interest" between great railway systems, but the specific investigation will be aimed at the northwestern railways.

Hundreds of witnesses, among them many of the leading railway promoters and owners in the country, have been summoned to appear in Chicago next Wednesday to testify before the commission. All the western railway magnates have been summoned to appear, and after the investigation in Chicago, which may last weeks, has been concluded the commission will resume its hearings in New York and before it the great promoters and financiers of Wall street. It is understood there is to be a general and determined fight all along the line.

The commission has announced its intention to examine every phase of railroad combination, including the purchase of the Southern Pacific by the Union Pacific, the Union Pacific's control over the Burlington, and every specific instance of what they regard as violations of the Interstate commerce law.

Injunction Suit to Be Filed.

Minneapolis, Jan. 3.—Governor Van Sant and Attorney General Douglas reached home Thursday. Both drove straight to the capitol and went to work. The attorney general will henceforth be the central figure in the fight against the proposed merger of the northwestern railroads. He left Friday for Washington and will institute the state's injunction suit Monday in the federal supreme court. His appearance Monday will be a formal. The court will set a date for the hearing and Mr. Douglas will return to Minneapolis. When he next goes to Washington he will be accompanied by George P. Wilson and M. D. Munn, his assistants in the case.

Will Be a Star Witness.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 3.—It developed Friday that Stilson V. MacLeod, indicted with City Attorney Lant K. Salsbury, Thomas E. McGarry, Henry A. Taylor of New York, and others for conspiracy in the attempt to foist a $4,000,000 water contract upon the city, confessed his share in the affair to the prosecuting attorney on last Tuesday and has agreed to turn state's evidence in the trials of McGarry and Taylor. Salsbury has already been convicted. The case against MacLeod is to be dropped in consideration of his action.

Trust Company Will Quit.

St. Paul, Jan. 3.—The St. Paul Trust company, capital $200,000, has voted to go into liquidation. The chief cause is a recent supreme court decision making the trust company liable for a judgment for $100,000 in favor of the estate of C. D. Strong, who has been in charge of the company for the last nine or ten years. The creditors will probably be paid in full, but the stockholders will receive an uncertain amount.

Miss Stone Reported Released.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Jan. 3.—Local reports of the release of Miss Eileen M. Stone and her companion, Mme. Tsilka, remain unconfirmed. News from the frontier says the brigands are hiding in Turkish territory, and are being hunted by the inhabitants, who had previously been victimized by the bandits. A fight occurred recently in which the leaders of brigands are said to have been wounded.

Decision Next Week.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Judge Tuley announced that his decision in the Stevenson-Dowle case would be announced next week. Judge Tuley is expected to decide whether "Dr." Dowle's law firm shall be turned over to a receiver, and incidentally whether Dowle shall pay Samuel Stevenson, who is Dowle's brother-in-law, and also the petitioner, money which Stevenson alleges the "Doctor" has fraudulently secured from him. Stevenson claims to have lost approximately $200,000 through his association with Dowle.

Treaty of Friendship.

Madrid, Jan. 3.—The treaty of friendship between Spain and the United States, having been examined by the cabinet, will now be submitted to the supreme council of state.

TOMAS ESTRADA PALMA

Receives Official Notification of His Election as President.

New York, Jan. 3.—President-elect Tomas Estrada Palma of Cuba is still at his home at Central Valley, N. Y. He has just received the first official advices announcing his election. It came from Mendez Capoto, president of the national constitutional convention, and is as follows: "According to the central committee of scrutiny, I allow myself to assure you that the election was practically unanimous. The partisans of Maso fought only in a few provinces. The conviction here is that the vote taken represents the will of the people by an immense majority."

The president-elect said: "There are two things which I shall ever strive to accomplish. The most important is to strengthen the cordial relations between the republic of Cuba and the United States of America."

"My other object will be to conduct an economical administration and under this head I hope to develop the Isla de Cuba, principally the agricultural industries. I hope to secure a reduction of tariff in this country so that the products of Cuba may be received here."

"I shall leave the United States in April and go to my fatherland. I shall go there to work like any factory hand or any laborer with the pick and shovel, and every officer of my cabinet will be expected and compelled to do the same."

Scalded to Death.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 3.—The boiler in the South Penn Oil company pumping station at Harry Rhoden's, in Doddridge county, blew up, scalding to death Harry Rhoden, a pumper for the company. Merrick Frick, who ran a string of well cleaning tools, and Dell Ash, his assistant. The men were all in the boiler house warming themselves when the explosion occurred. They broke open the door which had become fast and escaped to another boiler house a mile away. All were scalded so that flesh fell from them on the way. After reaching the other boiler house they all collapsed and in a few hours all were dead.

Two Men Asphyxiated.

New York, Jan. 3.—Thomas Reaney and Thomas Moran were found dead in their room in a boarding house in Brooklyn. Death was caused by illuminating gas which had escaped from a fixture in the room. It is believed the deaths were accidental. Reaney was 23 and Moran 25 years of age.

Encountered a Storm.

Queenstown, Jan. 3.—The Cunard line steamer Campania arrived here Friday and reports that terrible weather was encountered on the trip and she was forced to proceed at reduced speed on Dec. 31 and Jan. 1.

Dropped Dead in a Bank.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Colonel E. W. Ayres, at one time Washington correspondent of the Kansas City Times, dropped dead in the Citizens' National bank here.

The impression grows at Frankfort that ex Gov. James B. McCreary has the Senatorial race "cinched." The other candidates are still talking hopefully. They ought to retire from the fight and make it unanimous for the Madison man.

The Everett-Moore syndicate, owning or controlling electric railway and telephone property in Ohio and Michigan valued at $130,000,000, passed into the hands of a committee of Cleveland bankers, who will attempt to bring the big syndicate out of its trouble. Stringency in the money market and inability to float a loan caused the crash. It is said that the syndicate is solvent.

Probably J. Pierpont Morgan or some of his associates want to gobble up the syndicate's electric lines and have taken this method of squeezing 'em out.

W. J. BRYAN disapproves President Roosevelt's selection of Governor Shaw to a place in his Cabinet. The Commoner says:

The appointment of Governor Shaw to the place made vacant by the resignation of Secretary Gage is evidence of President Roosevelt's purpose to let the financiers have their way in conducting the Treasury Department. If there is anything bad in finance that Shaw has not endorsed, it is because the matter has not been brought before his attention. On the trust question he is entirely in harmony with the corporations. With him at the head of the Nation's finances, ordinary, every-day people, who make their living by labor, will receive little consideration. With the Treasury Department and Postoffice Department in the hands of Payne and Shaw, the President makes a good start toward controlling the next Republican convention.

THE WIRELESS PHONE.

A Kentucky Man Gives a Public Test of His Invention—Says Cost is a Trifle.

MURRAY, Ky., Jan. 3.—Nathan Stubblefield yesterday gave a public test of his wireless telephones, of which mention has been made in the papers in the past few days.

He established several stations throughout the business section of the town, and sent and received messages without wires. The apparatus he used was of his own make, with the exception of the receivers, which are similar to the ones used on ordinary phones.

Hundreds of people took advantage of the opportunity offered, and were astounded at the remarkable success achieved by Mr. Stubblefield. The inventor has so perfected his method as to send messages one mile, and says he will be able to send and receive messages any distance. Mr. Stubblefield expects to see his invention adopted throughout the world within a short while. He says that the cost of establishing a system with his apparatus will be a mere trifle as compared with the cost of the system now in use.

Lonely Homes

A home is never complete without children. Yet many homes are childless. Many wives are desolate for the lack of a child to love. Their lives are aimless—void of the high motives of motherhood. While barrenness is causing incalculable sadness and sorrow, it exists in most cases on account of some little female trouble, which Wine of Cardui would speedily set right. This pure Wine regulates the disordered female organs by building up the worn out nerves and regulating the menstrual flow. It restores the fallen womb to its proper place. By strengthening the generative organs, it makes pregnancy possible where barrenness exists. You can depend on

You are asked to try Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, its companion medicine. Nine out of ten cases of female trouble, barrenness included, yield to them. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Last May I had a miscarriage, which was followed by flooding. I read your Almanac and my husband got me a bottle of Wine of Cardui and it stopped my flooding and restored my fallen womb to its place. Now I am cured after taking three bottles and have another to take which I got this morning. I am expecting to become a mother and Wine of Cardui will be my doctor.

From the remarks of shippers and from the best information obtainable from all sources, a very large percentage of the new crop is of a nondescript character.

The short tips are of larger growth than usual—in fact, "overgrown." Trashes are poor over a wide extent of the burley belt, with heavy body and the greenish tint predominating. Very much of the leaf is brown and dark, and, owing to dry, unfavorable weather during the fall and early winter, has cured imperfectly. To the farmer and shipper it will prove unsatisfactory, leaving little profit to the latter for handling.

To attain best results it should be purchased carefully and sold in wet condition and before the redrying season, and if so handled should yield a fair profit to the shipper.

It is a debatable question whether or not there will be a sufficient proportion of good color tobacco in the crop to meet the requirements of manufacturers. From the feverish anxiety displayed by them in the past few months in reaching after everything showing color it is clearly apparent that they anticipate a big shortage in this particular, when the new crop begins to come on the break in larger quantities, and the marked deficiency in color in the small offerings of the past month certainly justify their fears.

A large proportion of the stock of 1900 now on hand is of the color types and will go a long way in meeting any shortage which may exist in the new crop, and is bound therefore to command full prices.

THE K. U. GLEE CLUB.

A magnificent Audience Greeted the College Boys at Christian Church Last Evening.

A magnificent audience in every respect greeted the Kentucky University Glee Club at the Christian Church last night. Chairs had to be placed in the aisles to accommodate the crowd, and a few occupied seats in the gallery. The decorations were in crimson and green and were very handsome, the university color crimson being made prominent in the draping of the walls back of the pulpit and the choir railing, while crimson-shaded lamps and candleabra added their soft light to the scene. The program embraced a number of chorus selections, interspersed with vocal solos, several numbers by the mandolin and guitar club, and two readings, closing with the K. U. college song.

The club presented a fine appearance, and the applause that greeted the various numbers showed that the program was enjoyed by the splendid audience.

At the close the club were tendered a reception by members of the church, light refreshments being served in the chapel.

The receipts of the evening amounted to about $120. The proceeds go to the organ fund.

SCORES DYING.

The Mysterious Disease Killing Many Cattle in Central Kentucky.

A Versailles dispatch says that scores of cattle are dying in Central Kentucky from a disease, the cause of which is a mystery. Most of the cattle affected had been fed upon corn fodder and the first theory was that they were poisoned by "corn smut," which is present upon the stalks in unusually large quantities this year. Another belief was that the animals died from eating too much dry feed without enough salt and water, but cattle have recently died that had access to both salt and water. The farmers are completely in the dark about the matter and the individual losses are beginning to be serious. W. L. Graddy, of Woodford, Wednesday night lost a cow worth over $150, making four valuable cows he has lost within a week. At Woodford farm eleven head of A. J. Alexander's Hereford cattle have died within the past ten days. J. M. Ledridge lost three head of fat steers this week, J. M. Elder two head, R. M. Holt five head in one day, D. E. Watts several head, John H. Field a fine cow. All of these losses have occurred in the vicinity of Versailles in Woodford.

The matter of stock dying from eating new corn, new fodder, worm dust, sorgum, etc., has been thoroughly investigated by the Illinois agricultural college, which states that the deaths are due to nothing more than a sudden change of feed and that the worm dust on the corn is not harmful.

IN MEMORIAM.

LEWIS COLLINS BLATTERMAN.

The greatest mystery of this world of ours is life and the most terrible tragedy is death, for death is the antagonist of life and the thought of the tomb is the skeleton of all feasts. We flourish and we fade as the leaves of the forest and the flower that blooms and withers in a day has not a trailer held upon life than the brightest moment that ever was seen or can be seen with his footstool. Death is a mystery unsolved by him who has not solved it; the grave is a sealed book, and beyond the portals of the tomb lies the shadowy land of the unknown, for no messenger has ever returned from the shoreless sea of eternity and revealed its secrets to the children of men?

Therefore, in the presence of death, the proudest intellect bows in reverential awe, and the humblest child of earth stands with quivering lips and aching heart.

With the dawning light of the New Year the grave opens up suddenly and taken to its emerald couches whom we have long known by the sacred name of friend.

As yet we cannot realize our loss. We cannot imagine how existence will seem without him. The pleasant old town has ceased to hold his genial presence—his familiar form has vanished from the streets. The kindly grasp of the hand, the winning smile, the dear familiar tones, all, all are things of the past. His spirit has returned to the God who gave it, and his body rests by the side of his dear good mother in the Maysville Cemetery.

Good bye, old friend, good bye! I thank you best and appreciated your many sterling qualities of mind and soul can never forget you.

In the land of the Leal—in the glad spring time of eternity—we shall meet again!

PITHY POINTS.

It now remains with the people at the hand of their Congress to right Admiral Schley before the nation and the world, else they are partakers with ingrates and monsters.

The littleness developed by Sampson and Long since the victory of Schley at Santiago shows plainly that such souls are far too small to contain anything of heroism, or to perform any thing like a heroic or unselfish act.

Wonder where the gang who are defaming Admiral Schley would have found vituperatives sufficient for their requirements had the Admiral have had his fleet destroyed instead of demolishing the Spaniard?

It's a good thing for the country that such men as Sampson and the Secretary of the Navy were such long ways from Santiago harbor the day the gallant Cervera sailed out, else a different report might have been sounded across the waters.

It will be a long hunt before the Secretary of the Navy will succeed in finding a man to do the work that Admiral Schley accomplished for the navy and the country, at such poor pay and such base ingratitude as this man was the recipient of.

It is essentially a family book, and its advice in a moment of sudden illness or accident may be the means of saving a valuable life. This great work is sent absolutely free on receipt of stamps to defray the cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper binding, or 31 stamps for cloth covers. Address Dr. R.
